Patients with diabetes rely on receiving diabetic testing supplies from this leading, nationwide supplier. The company has grown to serve more than 260,000 patients and is one of a select few providers that is authorized by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services to distribute mail-order diabetic supplies to Medicare beneficiaries.

As the company attracted new patients through short-form commercials, they would upsell complementary products and services to help patients simplify their medical needs. Short-form media became a great way to promote the company's brand and grow its patient pool. Commercials, however, aired often and at irregular hours, which led to an influx of calls that its contact centers could not service or staff around the clock.

A SCALABLE, FLEXIBLE SOLUTION

Liveops became a clear choice to handle the company's unpredictable call demands and customer service needs. Rigorous testing soon commenced and the Liveops team sourced additional HIPAA-certified, independent agents to ensure demands were met.

Liveops's award-winning eLearning courses, certification modules, and gamification enabled agents to quickly ramp up on products and services. Integrated call scripts were deployed across the Liveops platform to ensure a consistent call flow and caller responses were tested to help guarantee success.

“Liveops is a trusted partner that enables us to keep up with customer service demands. They have played a critical role in our business model and have become a perfect extension to help deliver an outstanding customer experience.”

A SEAMLESS CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE

Liveops independent agents were granted access to the company’s proprietary system to validate physician records and verify Medicare records to create a seamless, integrated experience for callers. This created a superior agent who could field complex calls and enroll new patients.

Liveops also provided granular, real-time reporting and campaign tracking to help the medical supply company make informed decisions and optimize media spends for future planning. The company also benefited from 24x7 access to call recordings to ensure quality.

CUSTOMER SERVICE QUALITY AT ANY LEVEL OF DEMAND

Liveops continues to provide superior call quality while ably handling volume demands. The company can quickly meet scale requirements by ramping up agents on an ongoing, as-needed basis.

The HIPAA-certified independent Liveops agents are able to schedule call shifts in 30-minute call blocks, which helps meet surges in call demand due to larger short-form media buys, while still maintaining a healthy level of agent utilization when volume is lower after airings have ended.

The company now benefits from real-time access to intuitive dashboards that provide granular access to performance metrics. The results are clear:

- An unprecedented 90% of calls are answered in 20 seconds.
